The Capreols were descended from the old Italian noble family Caprioli ^{who lived in Corsica not ten miles from the Bonapartes} One branch of ~~which~~ ^{this family} later went to France; another to England where the name became Anglicanized ^{as} Capreol. Frederick Chase Capreol was born in Hertfordshire in 1803, the second son of Thomas Capreol and his wife who was a niece of Sir Richard Chase and related by marriage to the Marquis of Salisbury. Capreol came to Canada in 1828 to assist in winding up the affairs of the ~~XXXX~~ North-West Company ⁶, and returned to England after spending two years at Montreal. Old Mr. Robert Cotton was an English gentleman, who had what one might call a gentleman's establishment, had no idea of working hard with his own hands, but rather of living in this country as the English gentleman of that day lived in England.

The first sale we made of our property was to Thomas Nightingale. This consisted of lots 9, 10, 11, and 12, in the Broken Range, Indian rReserve. He had a brick yard on Yonge St. just across from the head of the Rosedale Ravine, west of the small park. He supplied all the bricks for Toronto from this yard. He bought all this property with the idea of starting a brick-yard. He had gone all over Canada, but said that on the 12 acres along the lake-front he had found the best clay for bricks that he had seen anywhere. He worked away at this brick-making for some years and then the property came back on our hands. He was not able to make a success of it. We afterward sold the brick-yard to the Brantford Brick Co. They ran it for a time, and I think they sold it to Haney-Miller & Co., who operated the yard for a long time, and shipped bricks to Toronto. Then they went out of business, and that piece of property was afterwards sold to the Cooksville Brick Co., who bought it more to keep a rival from buying it. Just recently it has been bought by an oil company, who are refining oil out there, bringing the crude oil in from outside and just doing the refining here.

Notes from Mr. Capreol. Re Port Credit.

Mr. Hobberlin, of Toronto, bought a place here on the Lake shore, on lot 12, and built a big house here.

I sold 10 acres to a man named Cunningham, and 10 acres next to it to his sister, at $100 per acre with $100 cash payment. After they had had this property for 3 or 4 years, and came to me and said he would pay the mortgage, and he sold it for $150 per acre to Mr. Hobberlin. Then he took over his sister's 10 acres, and soon sold these ten acres to Mr. Hobberlin for $10,000.

When we bought this property there was a farm house and some barns on the first range. This piece was rented to a man named Perrin, an acreage of 409 acres. He paid $300 or $400 a year rental. The property ran up to the railroad tracks, and the upper part was rented to the son of Perrin's housekeeper, a man named George Wingfield. Mrs. Wingfield, his mother, came out from Scotland. We afterwards sold George Wingfield another piece of property, up the Erindale Road, about 30 or 40 acres. He afterwards became a J.P. at Port Credit.

The Madigans, near us, were wild Irishmen. There were all sorts of fights with them over line fences. They were on lot 8, ~~San~~ 1st Range, Indian Reserve.

MISCELLANEOUS

There is a family by the name of Capreol living in Toronto, who are descendants of Mr. Capreol who owned considerable property on the banks of the Credit River in Port Credit, and who, I understand, operated a mill, or was associated with the Peel Manufacturing Company which carried on business here some years ago. I believe the Capreol's in Toronto would be able to give you some information regarding the early days of this district. I understand that years ago large quantities of wool were brought to Port Credit on trains and were hauled from here to Barber's Mill, Streetsville. Two loads a day from Port Credit to Barber's Mill, was considered a good day's work.

Mr. Hathaway, of Toronto, who lectures on relevant subjects has also much material done of the very romantic figures in the earlier life, and one which fascinates me a great deal, was the late Mr. Capreol. From the snatches I have gathered of his earlier activities, he appears to have been a man of outstanding vision and foresight, but evidently a great many years in advance of the times in which he lived. I understand that he invented a liftlock similar to that which is in use to-day and spent a great deal of time and money in an endeavour to have the Government take it up and put it to use. He had a dream of a canal extending from the Georgian Bay down to Humber Bay, and was instrumental in the extension of the old Northern railway. He made five trips to England to secure funds for this latter project.

CAPREOL

One part of the scheme in which Mr. Capreol was interested with regards the development of Port Credit, was that they would dam up the river, and build factories all along the banks. He branched off on the Huron & Ontario Ship Canal scheme.

He spent $75,000 on this ship canal, having plans and profiles drawn, etc. as well as surveying done. This canal was proposed to take care of the trade from the western part of the United States, and would have saved all the money spent on the Welland Canal, and would have made Chicago 800 miles nearer Montreal.

In 1828 he came to Canada to assist in settling the affairs of the old North-West Fur Company, returning to England on the conclusion of his business in 1830. Three years later, however, he returned, settling in York (Toronto) and buying a large tract of land at the Credit, where he lived for a time. Mr. Capreol was the projector and promoter of the Ontario, Simcoe and Huron Railway, afterwards the Northern, and was presented with a handsome service of plate of seventeen pieces, by the citizens of Toronto, in recognition of his services. He afterwards received authority from the Legislature to sell his lands at the Credit by lottery, and, with the money obtained to erect a large cotton factory. This idea was abandoned however, and Mr. Capreol turned his attention to the construction of a canal between Lakes Huron and Ontario. Ground was broken for the canal, Sept. 17th, 1866, but the project was never carried to completion. Mr. Capreol died in Toronto. Water color. Size 3 x 4. Head and shoulders.

Any further information:

Descended from the noble family of De Capreols and of Sir Richard Chase, related by marriage to the Marquis of Salisbury, Mr. Capreol first came to Canada in 1827 to assist in arranging the affairs of the old North-West Fur Company. He returned to England in 1831, but two years later settled ~~per~~ in Canada and purchased land at Port Credit. Seeing the possibilities for manufacturing along the banks of the Credit, he planned to dam the river and build manufacturing plants along the banks. To this end he formed the Peel General Manufacturing Co., but unfortunately his vision was too broad for the times, and he could not secure the financial aid from England that he needed to carry out his plans and they had to be abandoned. (See Industrial file for further details.)

He planned the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal, and spent $75,000 having plans and profiles drawn, and preliminary surveys made. Again he was ahead of his time, for had this canal been built it would have saved a good part of the money spent on the Welland canal, and have brought Chicago 800 miles nearer Montreal.

Dear Sir:-

In reply to your enquiry regarding the cost of repairing Wharfe-Store, Houses, etc.

To make a good job of the Wharfe, it should be extended (100 ft) one hundred feet further which, together with some dredging required, would cost about ($3,000.00) Three Thousand Dollars.

The grain store houses will store about 90,000 bushels by being repaired a little which would cost about Three or Four Hundred Dollars.

There is a flour store house which will store 3,000 barrels of flour.

In 1860 there was shipped 29,860 barrels of flour and 190,000 bushels of wheat.

The average shipment of barley for the past four or five years has been upwards of 100,000 bushels during the two months which our market lasts for buying.

In his article, Hathaway mentions a man named Capreol who lived at Toronto and then at Port Credit. He obtained in the early 60's a charter for the Peel General Manufacturing Co. and bought the harbor and 1,100 acres. He planned to dam the river where the high banks converge, flood the fords and provide 25 feet of head water, then carry the water by streams to the manufacturing plant. Water power was most important in those days before the advent of electricity. Mr. Capreol planned to have several industries by this work, flax, hemp and woollen mills being among the number. Unfortunately, he was unable to secure the intercession of Toronto financiers which he required before broaching English Capitalists for funds, and Peel County's last hope of real commerce was gone.

More in "Toronto of Old"

The Capreol family came originally from Corsica. Great-grandfather of F. G. Capreol lived ten miles from the Bonaparte family.

They at one time owned property, in Toronto, on the west side of Yonge St., from Colborne to Wellesley Sts.

Owned 1200 acres at Port Credit.

Transferred Harbor Co. to relatives - Frank Turner.

They lived permanently at Port Credit at one time.

In 1856 the whole family retired and went to France to live. The panic of 1857 in Canada made it necessary for them to return.

OTTAWA

5th June 1885

My Dear Sir

After hearing the views expressed by the Hon the Minister of Public Works at the interview which the deputation had with him this morning I now beg to say that the Port Credit Harbour Company for which I have authority to act would be willing to make a free grant to the Government of the Harbour and the wharves and piers in connection with the same and of the tolls and privileges conferred upon the company the lands upon which they stand, and all other lands now in the possession of the company, and also the exclusive right to erect upon the piers or wharves of the said Harbour such store-houses ware-houses or other buildings as they may deem expedient so to do.

It must however be distinctly understood that the surrender above referred to will be made only upon the express condition that the Government will bind themselves to take such steps as may be necessary to prevent the Harbour from going to further decay and that they will ultimately put the same into an efficient state of repair.

To Wm. McCulla, Esq.,
Warden Co. Peel
Chairman of Deputation.

Yours truly

-----Capreol,

Sec'y. Port Credit Harbour
Company.

MEMORANDUM

Made at the Time

In addition to the facts and statements embodied in Mr. Capreol's memorial to the Provisional Directors of the Northern R.R. Company (dated 4 March 1852) and published in the Patriot of May 3'd 1852 it may perhaps be necessary to show the great risks he has incurred and the large sacrifices to which he has had to submit in order to find the ways and means to meet the preliminary expenses attendant upon his exertions to obtain the Charter of the Company and to launch the enterprize fairly into existence.

- 1st During the progress such were the difficulties for the preliminary expenses, that Mr. Capreol had to Hypothecate everything he had in the world including his plate -- pictures and even his wife's trinkets.
2. He pledged the income of his aged father (now deceased) and of his sisters all of whom would have been ruined had the road not been pushed through.
3. He has been on over £45000 of negotiable paper which has been regularly retired with the exception of one note of £2250 at the Commercial Bank (since

(CAPREOL MEMORANDUM)

The first item of £1123 Stg. was the proceeds of a Post obit bond for £4000 Stg. payable on his father's death and was necessary at the time as the only resource he had left to raise money.

The payment of the Bonds according to the pledges given to Parliament (vide letters from John Ross & Malcolm Cameron) would have prevented so large a sacrifice and given him (Mr. Capreol) the means of saving himself from that injury which he has sustained by the violation of those pledges on the part of the Provisional Board who gave them.

This sacrifice was made to avoid an execution being issued against Mr. Capreol --

Lastly -- It was distinctly understood by the gentlemen composing the Provisional Board of Directors & by them agreed & acted upon that they were not to be called upon for the advance of a single shilling to prosecute the undertaking, but for public satisfaction would act as a board & render him their assistance and countenance in endeavouring to accomplish the object -- That in such event Mr. Capreol should be the General Manager of the Company under the provisions of the Act of Incorporation giving such power to the Provisional Directors -- That no Director ever advanced or was required to advance a shilling towards the outlay which necessarily took place and on the dawn of consummation of the great object of accomplishment, Mr. Capreol at an adjourned Special Meeting of the Provisional Board called for another purpose, a bare quorum only being present without any previous notice was uncereemoniously dismissed without one shilling of recompense from his appointment as appears on the record of the Books of the Company for "Assumption of Authority" without the orders of the Board" -- For asking Lady Elgin to turn the first sod and presenting her with a valuable silver spade & ornamental barrow for the occasion. He was further charged with abstracting Books & important papers from the office of the Company, and after an action was brought against him for their recovery they were afterwards found to have been deposited by the President of the Company, the Hon'bl H.I. Boulton in the vaults of the Commercial Bank & the Provisional Board justified themselves in dismissing Mr. Capreol from the managership of the Company on this & similar misrepresentations.

Mr. Capreol received £10000 Cy in Bonds of the Company for the Preliminary expenses and £1000 in bonds up to 27 Dec 1850 in lieu of Interest (the Company having no money) for the first year. These bonds were endeavoured to be repudiated by being refused in payment of stock by the Board or by Parties at the Board, notwithstanding a resolution on the minutes to the Contrary under date 12 June 1851

"That the Bonds issued by this Company to Mr. Capreol shall be received in payment on subscriptions for stock in accordance with the Act of Incorporation whenever any person or persons shall tender the same for such purpose."

It must always be remembered that these bonds were valueless unless the Road was proceeded with & finished.

In manipulating the expenditure on account of the preliminary expenses of the Company Mr. Capreol's bills payable book shews that he carried from time to time paper to the extent of over £45000. The following is the actual list as taken from his books.

In conclusion Mr. Capreol was never a paid official when the first sod was turned by Lady Elgin on the 13th Oct. 1851 in the presence of about 40,000 people all that the Provisional Directors had paid was £37.10 on account of their stock and interest in the road - their due bills for their installments on stock to make their position legal being held by Mr. Capreol

Mr. Capreol was appointed manager under resolution bearing date 17 Sept 1849 & Treasurer under resolution date 27 Feb 1851 & had to give £2000 Security -- Pledges of the most sacred Character were given before Parliament that the bonds should be paid almost immediately after an amendment to the Charter going through the House was passed and the road commenced which pledges were violated -

PEEL GENERAL MANUFACTURING COMPANY

This Company is incorporated by the Act of Parliament 26 Vic: Cap: 60 assented to 12th May 1863 (vide copy of the Act accompanying)

Under Section 5 of the said Act the capital of the Company, has, for the present, been fixed at $600,000 divided into 24,000 Shares of $25 each.

Mr. Capreol is authorised by Act XXIV Vic: Cap 141 which received the Royal assent of Her Majesty in Council on the 26th June 1861 to sell and dispose of his land viz. Lots 9, 10, 11, 12 Broken front and 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14 First Range of the Port Credit Indian Reserve (containing about 409½ acres) "in shares by allotments" on the express condition that such sale shall be vested in Trustees, for investment by them in a Flax, Hemp, or other Factory for the benefit of the purchaser of such allotment shares.

It is provided by Section XVIII of the said Act that the three Trustees appointed under authority of Act XXIV Vic: Cap: 141 shall invest the 25% or one fourth part of the proceeds of Mr. Capreol's sale of the (his) land "in Shares by allotment" in shares in the said Peel

General Manufacturing Company.

Mr. Capreol has accordingly devided his said land in 1600 lots or Shares and made Scrip for each and every of such lots or shares entitling the holder thereof to one allotment share of the said land and to one share in the Peel General Manufacturing Company. The price or value of such scrip being fixed at $100 and the value of a share of the Peel General Manufacturing Company being (as provided in the Act of inforperation) $25 - twenty five dollars.

By Resolution of the Board of Provisional Directors of the Peel General Manufacturing Company at their first Meeting on the 1st July 1863 for the organization of the Company.

Mr. Capreol was allowed to subscribe for 5000 Shares amounting at $25 each to ----- $125,000.

Mr. Capreol accordingly subscribed for 5000 Shares of the Peel General Manufacturing Company's Stock and paid up the full amount by the transfer to the Company of 1250 Scrip for Allotment Shares of his land @ $100 each making $125,000 the amount of his subscribed Stock. And in compliance with the provisions of the Act XXIV Vic: Cap. 141 authorizing the sale of his land by allotment be transferred to Henry Fowler, James Tilt and John Kerr as Trustees under provisions of the said Act and for the benefit of the holders of the Scrip, 25% of the amount thereof, that is to say 1250 (of his 5,000) shares in the Peel General Manufacturing Company to be, by them, the said Trustees, transferred to the holders of the said Scrip, one share for each separate Allotment Scrip - whenever the drawing of the Lots shall have been made and on demand and presentation of the said scrip.

The Land, viz: Lots 9, 10, 11, 12 Broken front and 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14 First Range of the Port Credit Indian Reserve was on the 3d June 1865 conveyed by Mr. Capreol to W. H. Alger and George L. Allan in Trust for the benefit of the holders of the said Scrip - under the said Act XXIV Vic: Cap. 141, and in the event of an allotment of Shares being made then for the benefit of the grantor. The above observations apply to Mr. Capreol's position, as far as his property is concerned, with the Peel General Manufacturing Company.

During the past eighteen months the Company have acquired several tracts of land at Port Credit, increasing their tenure to upwards of 1400 acres. The Company have also purchased the Credit Harbour and its appurtenances.

The Great Western Railway passes thro' a portion of the Company's lands and a New Station is projected, to be erected on a lot belonging to the Peel General Manufacturing Company. It has also been proposed to connect the adjoining townships and villages of Springfield, Streetsville and Churchville with Port Credit by the aid of, and in conjunction with the Great Western Railway Company. It is anticipated that the authorities of the village of Streetsville, which is only eight miles from Port Credit, will pass a bye law giving a bonus of $20,000 this and the contributions of the Great Western Railway, the Peel Company and the Credit Harbour Company will ensure the Road being constructed immediately on obtaining the Act.

For the sum of $. Mr. Capreol is empowered, and willing also on his own part, to dispose of one half of the anove mentioned Stock, namely, $300,00 or 12000 Shares of $25 each.

The Acts of Parliament have been strictly complied with in all the provisions.

Old Mr. Robert Cotton was an English gentleman, who had what one might call a gentleman's establishment, had no idea of working hard with his own hands, but rather of living in this country as the English gentleman of that day lived in England.

The first sale we made of our property was to Thomas Nightingale. This consisted of lots 9, 10, 11, and 12, in the Broken Range, Indian rReserve. He had a brick yard on Yonge St. just across from the head of the Rosedale Ravine, west of the small park. He supplied all the bricks for Toronto from this yard. He bought all this property with the idea of starting a brick-yard. He had gone all over Canada, but said that on the 12 acres along the lake-front he had found the best clay for bricks that he had seen anywhere. He worked away at this brick-making for some years and then the property came back on our hands. He was not able to make a success of it. We afterward sold the brick-yard to the Brantford Brick Co. They ran it for a time, and I think they sold it to Haney-Miller & Co., who operated the yard for a long time, and shipped bricks to Toronto. Then they went out of business, and that piece of property was afterwards sold to the Cooksville Brick Co., who bought it more to keep a rival from buying it. Just recently it has been bought by an oil company, who are refining oil out there, bringing the crude oil in from outside and just doing the refining here.

Notes from Mr. Capreol. Re Port Credit.

Mr. Hobberlin, of Toronto, bought a place here on the Lake shore, on lot 12, and built a big house here.

I sold 10 acres to a man named Cunningham, and 10 acres next to it to his sister, at $100 per acre with $100 cash payment. After they had had this property for 3 or 4 years, and came to me and said he would pay the mortgage, and he sold it for $150 per acre to Mr. Hobberlin. Then he took over his sister's 10 acres, and soon sold these two acres to Mr. Hobberlin for $10,000.

When we bought this property there was a farm house and some barns on the first range. This piece was rented to a man named Perrin, an acreage of 409 acres. He paid $300 or $400 a year rental. The property ran up to the railroad tracks, and the upper part was rented to the son of Perrin's housekeeper, a man named George Wingfield. Mrs. Wingfield, his mother, came out from Scotland. We afterwards sold George Wingfield another piece of property, up the Erindale Road, about 30 or 40 acres. He afterwards became a J.P. at Port Credit.

The Madigans, near us, were wild Irishmen. There were all sorts of fights with them over line fences. They were on lot 8, ~~the~~ 1st Range, Indian Reserve.

Robert Cotton's son was James Cotton. The latter was quite the beau of the neighbourhood.

James Hamilton was the post-master at Port Credit.

John Goldthorpe bought one of our farms.

Mr. Grafton kept a hotel at Port Credit, and a man named Strong had a hotel there.

Mr. Blakeley was the light-house keeper.

The Peers used to run some stone-hookers.

My father and W. K. Muir were going to build a railway from Streetsville to Port Credit.

Biographical Notices.

Frederick Chase Capreol. The name of this gentleman, one of the oldest residents of Toronto, connected as it is with the organization and carrying out of the first railroad constructed in the Province, certainly deserves a prominent place in our pages. Mr. Capriol was born 10th June, 1803, and is the second son of Thomas Capreol, Esq., of Bishop Stortford, Hertfordshire, England. His pedigree on his father's side is derived from the ancient and ennobled foreign family of the De Capreols, Sir Richard Chase, and a relative by marriage of the late Marquis of Salisbury. Mr. Capreol first came to Canada in 1829 to assist in arranging the affairs of the old North-West Fur Company, and having fulfilled his part of the business returned to England in 1831. Two years afterwards he again came to Canada, and shortly after his arrival in New York, married a Miss Skyring, a lady who had been a fellow-passenger with him across the Atlantic. He proceeded to Toronto and determined to settle here, having purchased a large quantity of land at Port Credit. The result of this purchase was a long and tedious lawsuit, in which he was, however, successful.

Q.P. Capreol

In the month of July, 1843, a gentleman of the name of Thomas Kinnear, residing at Richmond Hill, a much esteemed citizen, together with his housekeeper, were brutally and barbarously murdered during the same day by two of his servants, who after the cold-blooded deed escaped to the United States. The city authorities would not take any action in the matter, and Mr. Capreol hearing of the whereabouts of the murderers, chartered a steamboat, at twelve o'clock on Sunday night, and at a considerable sacrifice of time and money proceeded to Lewiston, where he succeeded in capturing the fugitives and brought them to Toronto. They were tried, found guilty one of them suffered the extreme penalty of the law, and the other, Grace Marks, was sentenced to the Penitentiary for life.

Was Former Clerk of Provincial Executive Council

RAILWAY PIONEER'S SON

James Lonsdale Capreol, K.C., member of one of the oldest families in Toronto and son of Frederick Chase Capreol, promoter of Canada's first steam railway, died early Good Friday morning at his home, 63 Admiral Road, in his eighty-seventh year.

He was born in Toronto, his father having come first to Canada in 1828 to settle the affairs of the North West Fur Company, returning to Toronto, or York, as it was then known, with his wife in 1833. James Lonsdale was his eldest son and was born in the Capreol house on Wellington Street. About the year 1840 his father disposed of his property in Toronto, where he had extensive holdings, and took his family to France, settling in St. Omer, where his father resided. James Lonsdale received his education at Winchester School in England and later Lysee Imperiale at St. Omer, the national military school of France at that time. About the year 1848 his father brought the family back to Canada, establishing his home once again in Toronto, and James Lonsdale completed his education at Osgoode Hall and became the youngest practicing barrister in Ontario. He was a veteran of the Fenian Raid of 1866, serving with the Trinity College Company, which was affiliated with the Queen's Own Rifles, in which regiment he held a commission for many years.

In 1879 he entered the service of the Ontario Government as Assistant Clerk of the Executive Council, and was appointed Clerk in the year 1904. Mr. Capreol was created a King's Counsel in 1907.

He was an enthusiastic sportsman and a keen devotee of the rod and gun. In his younger days he rowed with the Argonauts and sailed under the flag of the R.C.Y.C. He was a charter member of the Toronto Tennis Club and an ardent cricketer, playing for the Toronto Cricket Club. In later years he curled at the Victoria Club and bowled at the Toronto Lawn Bowling Club. He was a member of the Toronto Club for many years, and also played golf at the Toronto Golf Club.

Rev. Robert S. Rayson, curate of St. Thomas's Anglican Church, which he attended, conducted the funeral service at his late residence on Saturday morning, and the interment was in St. Peter's Cemetery, Cobourg. The pallbearers were: Sir Frederic Stupart, D'Eyncourt Strickland, Dr. J. S. Archibald, Charles Swabey, Lionel Cross and H. Gordon Ramsay.

Mr. Capreol is survived by his widow and two sons, Cyril Lonsdale and John Henry Dumble; a brother, A. R. Capreol, of Toronto; and two sisters, Mary Capreol, of Detroit, and Frederica Capreol, of Cannes, France.

A FAITHFUL SERVANT.

Both as a member of one of Toronto's oldest families and as a civil servant of a particularly devoted type, the late James Lonsdale Capreol was a citizen of note. His father, the late F. C. Capreol, promoted the first railway to connect Toronto with the outside world, the Northern, which ran from Toronto to Collingwood, and was opened in 1853. For what seemed a foolhardy adventure, this builder was known as "Mad" Capreol, and this was matched by his prowess in another field, for, in 1843, and single-handed, he captured a man and a woman who had murdered a friend.

Many visitors to the Ontario Parliament Buildings during the past fifty years were familiar with a slight, retiring man of exquisite manner and taste, James Lonsdale Capreol, who was Clerk of the Executive Council. His work gave access to inner circles and possession of important Cabinet secrets. Mr. Capreol performed his duties with the highest punctiliousness and propriety. He stood for the Civil Service in its highest sense and represented efficiency and self-effacement, leaving the limelight to those of another type. His death at 86 leaves a gap in civic life.
